

Older youth in care

Tennessee

As young people transition to adulthood, they face significant opportunities and challenges. This is particularly true for those who age out of the child welfare system. Older youth in care experience the child welfare system differently than other age groups: These differences may include reasons for entering care, the types and number of placements, the length of time they stay in care, and how they exit care. To help young people successfully transition to adulthood, it is essential that child welfare agencies provide them with supportive relationships, educational opportunities, career preparation, and other forms of support. These resources will equip them with the necessary tools to set and achieve their goals.

Notes

<sup>3</sup>For young people entering care in FFY 2021. Other entry reasons include drug or alcohol abuse by the child, child's disability, relinquishment, and parental death.

<sup>6</sup>If a young person is determined to be of Hispanic origin, they are only counted as Hispanic and are not included in any other racial/ethnic categories. Data for the general population under age 20 in 2021 are from the U. S. Census Bureau which are publicly available on the U.S. Census Bureau website.

<sup>7</sup>All figures related to young people currently in care include those in foster care on the last day of the FFY.

<sup>8</sup>Average number of times young people were removed from the home, including the most recent removal.

<sup>9</sup>Current placement setting as of September 30, 2021. Other placement types include pre-adoptive home, runaway, supervised independent living, and trial home visit.

<sup>10</sup>All figures related to exits from care include those exiting care during the FFY.
